

Engineering Assistant/Lab Technician

We are seeking a full-time engineering assistant or a lab technician to join an expanding team that develops and manufactures various optical sensors and instrumentation systems.

Position Duties

- Fabricating sensors
- Operating and maintaining sensor manufacturing lines
- Calibrating and testing sensor systems
- Traveling occasionally for domestic and international field demonstrations and tests
- Inventory management
- Conducting ad hoc tasks assigned by engineers

Qualifications

- High school diploma or college degree
- Deadline and detail oriented with determination
- Ability to learn technical procedures and strictly follow them
- Strong work ethics
- (Preferred) experience working with fiber optics or electronics

Sentek operates in the Virginia Tech Corporate Research Center, located in beautiful Blacksburg, Virginia. People at Sentek enjoy not only great opportunities for professional growth in the fast pace vibrant work environment, but also the high-quality college town style of life in Blacksburg with their family. We offer a competitive compensation package including 401(k) matching, PTO, HSA and retirement plan. For interested candidates, please send your resume and cover letter to hr@sentekinstrument.com.